

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

As Asia's global law school, NUS Law offers a graduate programme that is an integral part of that vision. Every year, we welcome lawyers from dozens of countries around the world to Singapore—one of the most dynamic and open economies in the world, and the gateway for many multinational corporations to Asia.

By joining one of our Master of Laws (LLM) programmes, you will be part of a global conversation on the study and practice of law and be taught by experts in the field, alongside future leaders of the profession.

NUS Law's LLM programmes offer an opportunity to upgrade qualifications, to develop new skills, and to form professional and personal connections that will last a lifetime. Specialisations offer a programme of study tailored to develop expertise in a particular area, whether it is Asian legal studies, corporate and financial services law, intellectual property and technology law, international and comparative law, international arbitration and dispute resolution, or maritime law. Or you can design your own LLM programme, choosing from more than 100 electives offered by the NUS Law faculty and visiting professors.

Students who want to integrate their NUS degree with a China experience should consider the LLM in International Business Law, which combines the first semester in Singapore with the second in Shanghai, offered in partnership with the East China University of Political Science and Law.

Graduate school is much more than lectures and a library. Singapore is a vibrant, multi-cultural society with a rich heritage of architecture, botanic life and, above all, wonderful food! Many students also use their time in Singapore to explore the region. We encourage you to make the most of your time with us, both academically and socially.

Whatever your reason for considering a graduate degree, I hope you will take the time to explore what NUS Law has to offer.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Andrew Simester". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Professor Andrew Simester

Dean

Faculty of Law

National University of Singapore