The rounds set-up is configured by the course host departments. Year 4 students will have higher seniority score than Year 3 students at all eligible rounds.

7. Before you select your elective courses, please refer HERE and take note of the following:
 - a. You must adhere to the specific Prerequisites and Preclusions of the respective courses. You are precluded from reading course(s), which are substantially similar to the course(s) you have already completed on exchange. Students will be required to drop the affected course and make up the units. Where there are doubts concerning courses taken on Exchange and NUS courses that you intend to read, clarification should be sought directly from the respective course convenors with a copy to Office of Academic Affairs at lawundergrad@nus.edu.sg and Student Exchange at lawsep@nus.edu.sg by providing the following details:
 - Student's Full Name and Student Number
 - Host University
 - Course Name
 - Course Description (course details/syllabus, contact hours, number of teaching weeks, etc.)
 - b. There must be no clashes in class and/or final and take-home exam/assessment timetable. In addition, you should plan your workload in the semester and be mindful of the number of assignments in each course, the weight the assignments carry and the assignment deadlines.

Students who wish to select non-law courses should check the various platforms (NUSMods, Canvas, course websites, etc.) or consult the course hosts for information on assessments prior to selection to avoid clashes.

- c. Note that the courses below have separate applications and will only be allocated upon approval. Please refer to relevant course webpage for more information on application process:
